My computer has been shutting down for over a month now. I will be in the middle of something and it will just turn off. The other night it turned off twice while Brady was home. He asked me if that was the noise it always makes. I said "Yes". He said "Well that is just the fan." So he opens up my case and Lo and Behold the fan is covered in dust. Not just typical dust bunnies. This was a dust rabbit! The poor fan couldn't keep my computer cool. He took it outside along with my case and sprayed it out wtih a can of air. All clean now only problem was that the fan got so hot it fried my computer. So yesterday Brady purchased me a new computer. I am now the proud owner of a red laptop! (It looks more crimson and reminds me of OU. So I picked out a cream colored laptop bag. GO OU!) I have never had a laptop nor a brand spanking new computer. So this is my Christmas in July. I am so excited to use it and play around with using two monitors like he does and multi task! I absolutely love my new toy. Thank-you so much!!!

P.S. I am lucky to have a computer guy as my husband. I already managed to get a memory card stuck in the computer. Luckily he fished it out. I now know how to properly use a memory stick extender!
