Today I was driving to the bank to make a deposit and I ran over a curb on the road. It made the car tilt a little and I said "SHOOT! Is everybody okay?" Hailey replied, "Yes mom but SHOOT is a bad word. It means you are gonna kill someone. You shouldn't say that. You should say CRAP-A-MIGHTY. That would be better." So as I am laughing, I say "Hailey I think SHOOT sounds better. CRAP-A-MIGHTY doesn't sound so polite either." The conversation continues as we drive on better things to say!
(By the way, Crap-a-Mighty is not in my everyday vocabulary. Someone else I know uses it and my dear mother would say it. I can still hear her saying it loudly throughout the house when we got much older!)

As I began trying to type this entry in tonight, Brady began teasing me from his computer chair. I have an extremely difficult time paying attention to more than one thing when it comes to working on my computer. Anything else seems to be fair game. So as he is being silly, I give him a stare and he say's...
"NEVER BLOG WHEN YOU ARE ANGRY" which makes me laugh!!!
