Brady took Hailey out fishing while we were at the lake over the weekend. They were gone an extremely long time. I think it was at least 3 plus hours! I didn't think she would fish for that long but I knew she would be happy just searching for "treasures"- you know the fun stuff that washes up on the beach and hanging out with her daddy. Well she was happy doing both and she wound up catching her first fish all on her own with her own pole and finding lots of treasures! Brady even let her use his NICE camera and take pictures. I am shocked about that but she took some really good ones. Brady and Hailey had a great late afternoon/evening. She didn't want to come back. He had to tell her it was time!

Smokey bought them some really fat worms to use. I wish I would have caught it on film when Hailey was showing Hunter the worms. He said "Ewweh!" He wouldn't hold them. Hailey will have to teach her brother all about worms. I am sure he will be picking them up just like her soon.
