Every year at my inlaws home, their traditional Christmas meal is served. Since I have been added in the mix, peas are now a part of the meal. I love peas! Anyway, I took pictures of it this year to document what we eat for our Christmas dinner. The condiments are always different as half of the Tucker refrigerator is just condiments. (In fact, they have more condiments than I have actual food in my own refrigerator!) So back to the actual food... Turkey, ham, cornbread stuffing, fresh sweet potatoes, green bean casserole, peas, jello salad, fruit salad and rolls are served. Hope I didn't miss anything!

After dinner, Hailey got to make cupcakes with her new cupcake maker from her Aunt Kelsey. She also got some cool decorating tips and tools that will be perfect to use when we get around to making those sugar cookies! Hailey had a good time making cupcakes with Kelsey. The actual cupcake flavor wasn't so tasty but that is what happens when you cook one in a microwave. The froster is cool though. We can just make cupcakes and use the machine to frost. It bloops frosting out! They didn't just make one cupcake either. They made several. Thanks for playing with Hailey Kelsey. She loves to bake. I wish I would have remembered to have her wear her new apron Grammy made for Hailey and I. We got matching aprons!
