Saturday we spent some time outside doing a little bit of yard clean up. I raked some areas and Brady mowed the yard for the first time this year. Hailey and Hunter rode on the John Deer Gator until the battery was empty and needed to be recharged. The both enjoyed rides on the lawn mower with Brady as always. At one point, I went inside to check on Hunter napping and I came back out to find Hailey driving the lawn mover. Brady had finished mowing the yard and told her she could go for it. This delighted her to pieces. She couldn't wipe the smile off her face! Brady also got some really cute pictures of Hailey by my pretty tulips. We got a start on the yard. Now if only we had a weekend where it isn't windy so I can burn those stick piles!

I tried to be sneaky taking this picture. Hailey was reading books to Hunter on her bed and he was actually listening!
