I purchased some plants for the fence line and they needed to get planted. Brady tilled the ground up for me and I got busy digging and planting. I am not finished with the area yet. I still need to add some mulch and make a border. I love the plants I chose so far. I planted them closer than they say but I don't care. I can tend to them and I am excited to see them bloom and grow. It is going to be a nice spot of color!
