When Hailey needed to use the restroom, I took the opportunity to take her and Hunter on a super fast tour of grandmother's home pointing out things I remembered and liked as a child. I wish I would have taken pictures of every room.

I found out later that the seahorses that have been above the bathtub forever were given to grandmother by my Uncle Brent. Never knew that.

ed on the front porch with the windows open. The other side has nd

of the