Sunday was spent enjoying each other and good food. Kaelee had an idea before the reunion started that she wanted to make a quilt for grandmother. Jennifer made a cute quilt that each of the grandchildren put their hand or footprint on a square with their name and age. It turned out very cute and she loved it. She actually admired it the day before it had everyone's prints on it.

Daenon helped set up the traditional candy jar guessing game and the guessing began.

rawberries for dessert!
