After leaving my brother's home, Daenon, his family and ours drove to the West Entrance of Yellowstone Park. The drive from Idaho Falls was okay but as we started nearing the entrance, it began to change. I even saw some prong horns grazing in a field. We saw some great fishing spots we would like to come back to someday.

Just past the entrance of the park, we spied a Bald Eagle family. The male was sitting in another tree and the mom would fly off to go get food for her baby. The nest was huge! Brady and I have watched Bald Eagles before but I have never seen a nest up close.

[video:http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8VKC9i5j5pY 500x500]