I have finally completed documenting our Yellowstone trip. Took me long enough.

And... I saw these yesterday and had to go check them out today. I have a serious love of pumpkins. I don't really like yard art. Sometimes it can be too tacky. But after seeing these gigantic pumpkins I might like them close to my door - UNTIL I checked out the price. Who pays $159 to $214 for those? I went in to see if they had any smaller ones. They did but all were way over priced. Just crazy but I bet I see them in a few Edmond yards! O-well. They would just wind up junking up the garage more...
