Today our little girl turned SIX years old. It seems like every year she turns over another year I say, "I can't believe it!" Well today I believe that she is older now. She looks the part. I told her she just has to be our little girl and love us forever though! We love her very much.

She had a great morning hanging out with her brother going through the goody bags from yesterday's parties and then took a balloon bath! She asked if she could blow up the left over balloons and I said yes. When it was time for her bath, she asked if she could take a few "babies" (2 small balloons). She loves to pretend and play in the bath. I told her yes. Hunter decided to add to her collection and went and got all the rest of the balloons!

After church, we lounged around for a bit and the she opened up her gifts from us. Brady gave her a DVD player with pink headphones for the car. We haven't had one since she was 3 when she got sick on it and ruined it. She is good on our trips and hasn't needed one but she will enjoy it when we take longer ones in the future. (Hunter will enjoy it too. Daddy got him one too!) Hunter gave her some Tinkerbell shoes and I gave her the Swim To Me Puppy she has been desiring. She is excited for her next bath!

Hailey's initials are HRT. Whenever I think about them I think of a HEART and how much my life has changed since she was born. I have a lot of love for her. I could name a lot of things I love about my spunky, beautiful girl but I will just name a few that start with her name for fun. I am glad she is still youthful and loves to talk and do things with me.

H- Happy Go Lucky! I love this about her. She is content and easy to please.

A- Accepting! She finds the good in most people.

I- Imaginative! She thinks out of the box usually and can make situations work for her.

L- Loving and Loud! (The loud part is missing at school. She's quiet there.)

E- Energetic! This is apparent from the constant bruises on her shins and forearms.

Y- A Yapper! She talks and sings nonsense when she is working or extremely happy. Sometimes it can drive me nuts but I love that it genuinely makes her happy.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY MISS HAILEY RAE TUCKER!
