Hailey brought home a gift for Brady and I yesterday from school. When Brady came home, she had us open it up together. It was an ornament that looked like a bunch of snowmen but after further inspecting it, her hand print was turned into super cute snowmen. It came with a cute little poem. I love this gift and the fact her teacher had the children do something special for their parents. (I also love the fact that it was done on a plastic ball and not a glass one. It will last longer!)

The bag the ornament was in... She accidentally spilled sanitizer on her name in the car on our trip from school to home. She edited it when she was home. Then she told me she messed up the reindeer antlers at school. She said they were not supposed to be sticking out of it's body!

These aren't just five snowmen
As anyone can see.
I made them with my hand
Which is a part of me.
Now each year when you trim the tree
You'll look back and recall
Christmas of 2009
When my hand was just this small
