I went and picked up a pizza and salad last night and when I returned home I saw and heard the kids through the open front windows and saw a card on the doormat with an apple on it. I picked up the apple and read the very awesome homemade card with Hailey and Hunter. I love those kind of cards. Then we went inside and I found the picnic blanket set up all cute ready for our dinner. Hailey made some place cards. So cute. Then Brady asked if I wanted my Mother's Day gift now or after dinner. I said something like "Sure. Now." Thinking why not. I was then escorted into the computer room and told to open my eyes. I found the ipad with some extra goodies on my laptop! I never guessed from the cute apple on my card clue or thought I would have one of those BEFORE BRADY! I never wanted an iphone but the ipad looked like something I would want. I am still shocked that I have one and feel very lucky and loved. We then went and ate dinner but I told them to wait because I wanted a picture first. Brady shocked me again and had already taken pictures. Awesome. So we ate and then played with the ipad. The kids got super tired of waiting on us and fell asleep in the chairs.

Thanks so much for my Mother's Day present Brady, Hailey and Hunter. I really love you all!
