My sister came to visit last week!!! In Arizona they have a week off for Fall Break so she brought her sweet little boy Landon and her boys stayed home. They went camping with their grandparents and had fun with their dad. It was fun having them here. I wish I lived closer to my family. I don't like missing out on all the kids growing up and getting to know them better. My turn is next and I can't wait to go visit them!

Someone "Boo-ed" us and left a big bag of candy corn on the doorstep for the kids. We continued the fun and did two of her friends from school. It was fun seeing Hailey and Tessa ring the doorbells of her classmates and run! I love making memories like this. Reminds me of all the times we played with my dad all in good fun!

Tessa brought along some sweet birthday cards from Nathan and Michael for Hailey's upcoming birthday. Since Tessa is not here on her birthday's, we had a little surprise party for her after school on Monday. She was thrilled. Blingy belts, real makeup and nail polish, slumber bag and cake!

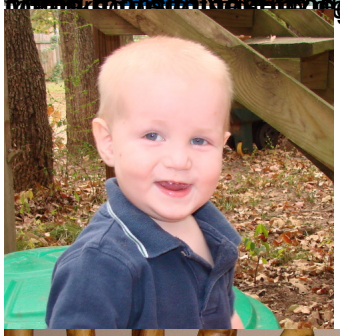

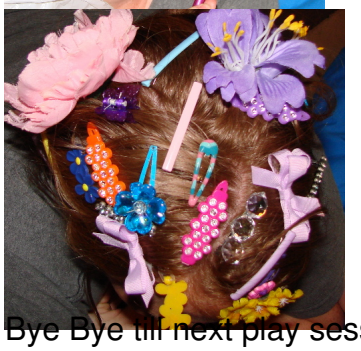

Bye Bye till next play session!

P.S. I stole some of her pics she posted on FB :)
