

This was my childhood Easter Basket. When Hailey was one, I took the ratty top off and glued some ribbon to it. I kept the ancient easter chick and glued him back to the top. This basket makes me happy. I added my cute little friends to it and put it on the entry way table. Hailey doesn't really like the fact she can't play with my friends though. Some things are just to look at!